

A letter from Adventures Into Directors Mike and Susan

Dear Parents

Adventures Into is an adventure learning based company, specialising in delivering residential school-based camps and outdoor learning activities to young people across the UK.

Mike and Susan are both qualified primary school teachers and have taught collectively for over 50 years! They both have extensive experience delivering outdoor educational experiences to young people. Mike has been Headteacher at Dell Farm and Shortenills Residential Outdoor Centres and Outdoor Adviser for a Local Authority for over 10 years. Susan is a trained Forest School Practitioner and camper.

We now have the pleasure of organising an outdoor experience at your children's school.

The children will take part in some amazing adventurous activities, learning some valuable life skills along the way. All delivered in a safe and engaging manner.

Activities may include fire lighting, archery and even a bit of outdoor cookery. A final programme will be agreed with your teachers.

Adventures Into Kit List

A lot of the activities will take place outside so it's good to think about clothing. Hope for the best and plan for the worst. Waterproofs and sun cream!

Bring some spare things along, just in case, and nothing you don't mind getting a little muddy or wet.

Leave those party clothes at home!

Please wear...

- Water proof jacket/coat
- Sturdy outdoor shoes in a bag (walking boots or old trainers)
- Older trousers – joggers or leggings (not jeans)
- Layers – t shirt, long sleeve t shirt, sweatshirt (school sweatshirt will be fine) and coat.
- Cold weather – hats and gloves
- Wet weather – wellies in a bag, waterproof trousers, waterproof jacket
- Warm weather – sun cream and sun hat
- Bring a refillable water bottle (especially important on hot days)
- Cover all open cuts/grazes with a plaster
- Tie long hair up

Thank you!
